SOCCEROOS WIPE OUT NZ

AN appeal by Socceroo striker Graham Anrold to play as an extra attacker carried Australia to a crushing 4-1 win over New Zealand in the Oceania World Cup qualifier at Sydney Football Stadium on Sunday.

Arnold scored two brilliant goals as the Socceroos overcame a nervous start and practically shattered the Kiwi hopes for the 1990 World Cup finals.

It was the biggest Australian World Cup win over New Zealand, beating the 3-1 victory in Sydney in 1977 and the most goals scored against the Kiwis since the 5-3 total in 1967.

"I spoke to Frank Arok before the game, asking could I play in attack as a striker and put pressure on the slower New Zealand fullbacks," Arnold said.

"It was great to be in the front line again."

"The last time I scored a double in an international was against Chinese Taipei in the Olympic qualifying rounds in Camberra a year ago."

Arnold, who scored in each half, was matched by

More woe for Melbourne JUST

● Robbie Slater

THIS week, the Melbourne JUST management is probably bitterly regretting the fact that its game with Sunshine George Cross was not one of the games postponed due to Socceroo commitments.

The rule that a club can ask for a postponement if it has three or more players in the National squad is an unfair one.

It is unfair because some clubs with a large squad and enjoying an injury-free run can manage to do without even three players, when other clubs can be devastated by the absence of only two key players.

The rule certainly worked against JUST last weekend.

The absence of Gary van Egmond and Oscar Crino at the same time as Drago Deankovic was suspended was a heavy burden to begin with and JUST's problems have now been compounded with a serious injury to goalkeeper Zoran Nikitovic and the send-off of Ken Murphy late in the George Cross encounter.

Fortunately for the Blues, their game schedule for this Sunday against South Melbourne has been postponed under the three-player rule, but that

ANONYMOUS LETTERS A NO-NO

NO matter how many times we write that we don't publish anonymous letters, we still get them.

And I wouldn't bother to take any notice of the one I received this week from "Macedonian fan", if it wasn't for the fact that I deplore the state of mind that causes people to write such garbage.

This person says he supports the Socceroos (good on him!), but says that Frank Arok must be anti-macedonian because he doesn't pick either John Markovski or Zlatko Nastevski for the Socceroos.

He seems to overlook the fact to play for the Socceroos you have to be Australian.

If Nastevski took Australian citizenship how would he then be Macedonian? (I don't know him, so I can't say categorically whether he has been naturalised or not. . . I know that John Markovski has).

Eventually, I am sure that Markovski will play for Australia, he's probably the best player for his age in the country, I have always felt.

But what the hell has that to do with being of Macedonian extraction?

This sort of ethnic garbage makes me sick and it's a blight on the game.

Some newspaper columnist wrote recently that he was nauseated to see two children who were no more than ten years old carrying placards reading "death to Rushdie".

That is an obscenity, but equally obscene is the attitude of people who send kids to our soccer grounds wearing T-shirts with equally provocative slogans.

If "Macedonian fan" wants to criticise Arok for picking the wrong players, he's perfectly at liberto to do so (I've done it myself a thousand times) but to say he doesn't pick Markovski and Nastevski because they are of Macedonian descent is sick.

SAM GOES OVER THE TOP AGAIN What a blessing and a boon to soccer is Sam Papasavas!

In a slow news week, he can always be relied upon to pop up with some fatuous comment on the subject he is least qualified to talk about, world soccer.

He was at his idiotic best in an interview with Peter Robins of the Sunday Observer last week.

"Attendances are up 34 per cent and the standard of play (in the NSL) equals the best in Europe" says curly haired Sam.

The inflated attendance figures were to be expected, of course, there is no way they can be checked and the push will be on to prove that playing at different times of day and night and on different days has been a success.

But some of the figures are just unbelievable.

However, leaving the figures aside, Papasavas' comments about the standard of play are absurdity itself.

"The NSL teams are playing a standard of football which can be compared with the English Second Division and with most First Divisions in most European countries."

Utter balderdash, Sar

What European countries?

Surely he doesn't mean West Germany, Italy, Holland, Belgium, Denmark, France, Sweden, Norway, the USSR, East Germany, Poland, Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Spain, Portugal, et al, just to name a few off the top of the head.

As for comparing the NSL with the English Second Division, the notion is just ludicrous.

But what would Sam know about that?

His knowledge of soccer is scanty enough here, but outside this country he is a soccer ignoramus.

And he scores a beautiful own goal when he starts evaluating local standards.

For instance he says "Sunshine George Cross has surprised me because in the last two or three years they have lost most of their good players, yet they are still in the middle of the ladder."

That says it all, doesn't it?

Has it ever occurred to our egregious NSL chairman that the reason George Cross can hold its own, having lost in his words, so many good players, is simply that the overall standard of the League has dropped away so much?

I can't for the life of me think of any European country whose First Division is on a par with the NSL, unless it could be Andorra or Leichtenstein.

One last point Sam.

If the standard in the NSL is so good, how is that so many players from Scottish Junior (a standard, not an age group Sam) have succeeded in it, when they couldn't back home?

THE FOOTBALL STADIUM LACKS ATMOSPHERE I spent Sunday working at the Australia v New Zealand game in Sydney, but I have to say that whilst I enjoyed the result very much I didn't enjoy the experience very much.

You have to go to work at a big game in Sydney to appreciate how hard the hierarchy are working to put us Mexicans in our place, well below the salt, almost in the servants' quarters as it were.

The big con was on again about the crowd, of course.

I was standing with SBS staffers like Les Murray, Andy Paschalides and Kyle Patterson and we were very pessimistic about the small attendance forty minutes or so before the kick-off.

"They are rounding up the Kiwis in Bondi," said someone light-heartedly, and true enough, the crowd did start to swell.

But we were staggered to hear aan "official" crowd figure of 14,000, later amended slightly to about 13,500.

More like 10,000, I thought, although to be fair, there must have been 1000 free-loaders sorry, (I mean NSW soccer personalities in the bar).

Maybe they were seeing double!

But that wasn't why I didn't enjoy the experience too much.

The Football Stadium will never be a soccer ground like Olympic Park, because it lacks atmosphere, that's one point.

Secondly, it employs heavies, whose main task in life, it seems is to harass photographers.

Frank Arok and his entourage of reserves, physio, doctor, etc. were seated three rows back with the public and a fellow photographer who decided to try to get a photograph of Frank as he was emoting in his usual uninhibited fashion.

But he was told to move along, and when he stood his ground, saying he was doing his job, he was summarily evicted from the stadium.

Apparently it was all right for the TV cameramen to walk up and down the touchline and poke their lenses into every nook and cranny, but photographers have to know their place.

ENGLISH SOCCER GOES BANANAS English soccer is going bananas, and haddocks and canaries and black puddings too.

As Murray Hedgcock pointed out in an excellent article in the Weekend Australian recently, English fans have suddenly brought some fun back into the game by carrying oversize inflatables to the games.

Manchester City fans started the craze with huge yellow bananas, as you will have seen on the ABC's Monday night show.

Then the firm making the balloons decided to diversify and invented Harry the Haddock, which was quickly adopted by Grimsby Town, Grimsby being the centre of the English fishing industry.

Not to be outdone, Bury fans now can be seen carrying huge black puddings, and Norwich fans blow-up canaries, naturally.

Of course the craze will arrive here, eventually, but in what shape?

Will Heidelberg supporters be seen carrying four-foot long blow-up hamburgers, South Melbourne fans souvlakis and JUST supporters cevapcice?

Where will it end?

outstanding performances from midfielders Oscar Crino and Mike Petersen and defender Wally Savor.

But the Australian scoreline could have been doubled if the finishing had been more accurate from Arnold, Scott Ollerenshaw and Warren Spink.

Despite the nervous start, the Socceroos quickly settled down and proceeded to tear gaps in the fragile New Zealand defence.

The Kiwis turned in a very ordinary performance and were obviously still feeling the effects of the hurried long flight from Tel Aviv where they lost their opening match 1-0 against Israel.

Australia led 2-0 at half time with Crino volleying the opener in the 16th minute and Arnold scoring three minutes before half time.

Arnold added another 10 minutes into the second half while Charlie Yankos crashed a 79th minute penalty past New Zealand keeper Clint Gossling who had tripped Ollerenshaw.

Defender Malcolm Dunford gained a 70th minute consolation goal for New Zealand when he headed home a corner from Chris Riley.

"We played a dirty trick un using Arnold as an extra striker and he produced what we wanted," Arok said.

"The team trained for 70 minutes at top pace in the heat during the week, chasing everything like mad, and if we can do the same as today in Tel Aviv we will beat Israel."

Yankos, who returned from his Greek club POAK Salonika on Thursday, led a defence which was rarely threatened and his long probing kicks found speedy forwards ready to run and take on the New Zealand backline.

An Arnold pass to Ollerenshaw was relayed to Crino whose half volley deflected off a defender and past the diving Gosling for the first goal.

Paul Wade found Arnold on the far side of the goal area to spark the second goal with Arnold rounding defender Ceri Evans and slotting the ball into the far corner of the net.

Striker Warren Spink floated a long pass to Wade who beat a challenge by Nigel Debenham and again found the waiting Arnold to score his second.

"We were beaten by a better side but we're not going to lie down," New Zealand's coach John Adshead said.

"Australia and Israel still have to play us in front of our crowd and whoever wants to win this series is going to have to earn it. There's no pressure on us but plenty of them."

The New Zealand team returned home on Sunday night and Australia left on Monday for a warm-up match in Athens and then to Tel Aviv for the match against Israel on Sunday.

MAN OF THE MATCH:
● JOE PALATSIDES

MELBOURNE JUST, under new coach John Margaritis, edged off the bottom of the ladder by drawing 0-0 with Sunshine George Cross at Chaplin Reserve on Saturday.

Margaritis, the man who led Brunswick-Juventus to the 1985 NSL championship, fielded a make-shift team with four players absent.

Forward Joe Palatsides took Zoran Nikitovic's place in goal after the 'keeper was carried off on a stretcher in the 77th minute, and made two excellent saves to preserve the draw for JUST.

He flew across goal to punch away a strong header from George Cross right back Shaun Parton, and later dived at the feet of striker Ossie Latif, who was charging towards goal.

Nikitovic was injured in a collision with George Cross forward Paul Lewis as they headed for the ball.

It was a bitter blow for the JUST goalkeeper, who was almost sacked during the mid-week turmoil tha t led to the dismissal of coach Ilija Dimoski and Margaritis' appointment.

Although JUST's top priority was a draw, it came close to scoring with a header by Bill Lazopoulos that hit the cross-bar after only 10 minutes.

At the other end Lewis accepted a brilliant cross from Ossie Latif but his low shot, which beat Nikitovic, went centimetres wide of the post.

Milan Dimoski had the best scoring chance of the game when he ran onto a through ball from Mehmet Durakovic in the 47th minute but George Cross goalkeeper Shaun Keogh made an excellent save.

Latif was equally dangerous at the other end of the ground, where he beat Nikotovic to the ball but rammed it against the bar.

Carlos Retre, signed recently from Mordialloc, came on for his JUST debut when Nikotovic was carried off and Palatisdes went into goal.

HOME-WIN QUEST FAILS

ADCITY 0
SYD. OLYMPIC 0

MAN OF THE MATCH:
● STEVE MAXWELL

ADELAIDE CITY'S quest for its first home win of the season failed when it was held to a scoreless draw by Sydney Olympic at Hindmarsh Stadium.

Olympic resorted to questionable tactics to earn a point from a game in which Victorian Jim Fearn booked three players from each side.

Olympic began with a feverish approach motivated by a lack of success over the past six weeks.

But City withstood the early pressure to emerge as the stronger team in the second half aand was unlucky not to have grabbed a late win when Steve Maxwell had a solid shot saved by Olympic's beanstalk goalkeeper Gary Meier.

With Alex Tobin required for substitute duty with the Socceroos, City coach Zoran Matic brought in Paul Shillabeer as the full-back replacement from the team which beat Wollongong.

Olympic boss Eddie Thomson brought in Gary Phillips, David Barrett and Alister Edwards to replace Grant Lee, Robert Hocker and injured Socceroo Jason Polak.

Olympic forced a corner in the opening minute following a free kick on the edge of the box against Red Star recruit Milan Ivanovich.

That danger was averted by the City defence but it required a great tip-over-the-top by City goalkeeper Robert Zabica to stop a testing lob from former Australian international Marshall Soper.

City defender Neville Flounders was booked by Victorian referee Jim Fearn for a crunching tackle on Alister Edwards before the latter forced a brave save from Zabica in the 11th minute.

Aurelio Vidmar had City's first real scoring chance in the 24th minute when he collected a faulty pass out of the Olympic defence, but rifled his drive wide.

Then big Flounders nodded a Vidmare goalwards, only to be greeted by a diving save from Meir and the linesman's flag for an infringement.

In the 37th minute Maxwell was flattened in the box, but the free went to Olympic defender Tony Spyridakos.

With two minutes left before the interval, Vidmar had the best scoring change of the half when he powered a header off an Adrian Santrac corner past the near post.

City produced its more enterprising burst when Vidmar and Joe Mullen combined for the latter to test Meier with a ground shot before Shillabeer curled a drive over the crossbar.

John Koch was booked for a cynical foul on Maxwell and, from that free kick, Ivanovich found the top of the crossbar.

De Jong hat-trick has fans wondering

MARCONI (Lowe 39th, De Jong 45th, 66th, 73rd, Nastevski 59th, Gray 83rd)
MARCONI supporters had good reason to wonder why striker Fred de Jong wasn't in the New Zealand team for Sunday's WorldCup qualifying match against Australia.

On Saturday night de Jong scored a brilliant hat trick as theNSL leader demolished Wollongong City 6-0 at Brandon Park.

MAN OF THE MATCH:
● FRED DE JONG

The Kiwi import may be out of favor with New Zealand coach John Adshead and the Wollongong defenders but de Jong is certainly the toast of the Marconi fans.

He scored the all-important second goal on thestroke of half time after Peter Katholos took a corner on the right.

Rangy Marconi utility player Gerry Gomez headed the ball down into a crowded goal mouth and de Jong sent a great over head kick into the Wollongong net.

Earlier David Lowe had put the visitors ahead with a 39th-minute goal after evading Wollongong centre backs Ray Vliestra and Jock Morlando in a run up the middle.

It was de Jong who sent him on his way and Lowe did well to angle his shot past goal keeper Warwick Young.

While Wollongong had been competitive for most of the first half, it was chasing shadows after the interval.

With players going forward continually the home team was left short-handed at the back and Zlatko Nastevski took advantage of this to makei t 3-0 after 59 minutes.

With Wollongong reeling, de Jong struck twice to complete his hat trick and midfielder Ian Gray grabbed number six seven minutes from the end.

Wollongong had conceeded only five goals in their eight league games this season but were all at sea against a Marconi side with no weaknesses.

Only David Skeen was able to produce anything near his best form for Wollongong while Marconi coach Bertie Mariani had a host of stars performing for him.

JUVE SETS A CRACKING PACE

● FALCONS LOOKING GOOD

I am at a loss to understand the attitude of the State League clubs towards publicity.

My editor, Les Shorrock, attended a meeting recently between the State League Clubs and the media, which was called in an attempt to promote more co-operation between the two bodies.

It doesn't seem to have achieved much so far.

For instance, we print a sample match report form every week in this newspaper, but sad to say, to date we have never received one back from a State League club, nor for that matter have we as much as received a phone call.

What can we do to rectify this situation?

I can't ever remember a State League season kicking off with the first two rounds being played in such contrasting weather.

For that reason, it is much too early yet to be forecasting with certainty promotion and relegation outcomes.

But it has to be said that Juventus has started off on the right foot, although it will probably encounter much sterner opposition this week when it travels to Bulleen.

Fabio Incantalupo will have the opportunity to demonstrate that Juve was wrong to let him go.

Bulleen left it late last week at Croydon, where Incantalupo started to pay back some of his transfer fee with an equaliser only six minutes from time.

In contrast Juventus had little difficulty in winning at Frankston against newly-promoted Pines.

If Juventus is favorite to win the League, it could find its main opposition coming from the Latrobe Valley.

Morwell Falcons canny coach Bob McLachlan pulled off a coup this week by signing New Zealand striker Billy Wright.

Wright is one of the many players discarded since John Adshead took over the New Zealand coaching job from Kevin Fallon.

He could make his debut for Falcons this Saturday, against Springvale City which hasn't made the best of starts and has still to score a goal.

On paper, Falcons look a stronger team than they did last year, but of course, only time will tell.

The two promoted teams, Altona Gate and Frankston Pines meet at Paisley, and if last week's performances are any guide, Gate should win.

Billy Murray has moulded a good team together, with Tom Markovski dominating at the back, and Zoran Ilioski and Mendo Ristovski contributing a lot of experience.

Gate overcame a spirited fight by Ringwood City, although Ringwood coach Hans Petersen says he is hampered by injuries from producing his best team at the moment.

St Albans bounced back from their first round loss to beat Green Gully last week in what became a bonny scrap at the end.

Gully was all over the Saints at the death, but couldn't break through, and will have to start this week without Tommy Daley.

Daley has a short fuse and the St Albans players knew it.

What was surprising about the Gully line-up was that Adrian Pender wore number 9 and seemed to be playing up forward, where he didn't seem too happy.

With his prevous club, Western Suburbs he was a sweeper, of course.

Struggling Caulfield travels to Thomastown on Saturday, after luckily surviving a spirited second half rally from Box Hill last week.

Everybody who has watched Caulfield so far has told me how poor a team it looks and it seems highly improbable that it can trouble the top four contenders unless it gets some reinforcements quickly.

Ringwood City should get back on the winning trail at home to Fawkner, and Maribyrnong will have its work cut out coping with St Albans.

One of the outstanding clashes on Sunday should be at Green Gully, where Northcote City will provide the opposition.

The weekend's games, with probable winners in caps.

was pure good luck, if the game had been against say, Marconi, they would have had to play re-gardless.

As we went to press, JUST was frantically searching Victoria for another goalkeeper, but good goalkeepers are as scarce as hens' teeth at the moment.

Robbie Slater dropped a bombshell on Monday when he announced that he had withdrawn from the Socceroo squad for "personal reasons".

His decision was good news for Paul Trimboli who has gone in his place, inexplicable as the choice may seem.

Trimboli, like Scott Ollerenshaw and Warren Spink will be only a tourist in Tel Aviv, he certainly won't play.

Arok's three forwards are bound to be Graham Arnold, Frank Farina and Eddie Krnevic and you can't help feeling that another midfielder or even another defender would be a better alternative.

What on earth is the point ot taking five strikers for one game? But then, why pick Frank Farina anyway?

Choosing Eddie Krncevic I can stomach, because his recognition by Arok is long overdue, but Farina's speed hardly compensates for his lack of skill which brings us back to the matter of Slater.

Slater is a far better player than Farina ever will be and it must be gall and wormwood to him that Arok prattles on incessantly about playing Farina.

Slater has never got on well with Arok, and he has always felt slighted that both Scott Ollerenshaw and Warren Spink have been selected ahead of him.

Maybe the thought of Farina playing was the last straw, because he knew that he, like Trimboli, wouldn't get on the field against Israel next Sunday.

Only four games are scheduled for round ten this weekend, with Melbourne Just v South Melbourne, Blacktown City v Sydney Croatia and Marconi v St George all being postponed under the three play-rule.

The four games are Sydney Olympic v Wollongong City on Friday night, Melbourne Croatia v Adelaide City at Somers Street, Heidelberg United v Sunshine George Cross and APIA v Preston Makedonia at Lambert Park, all kicking off at 2.30 pm on Sunday.

Heidelberg coach Jim Tansey is beginning to see some light at the end of the tunnel now, and probably for him the most significant fact about this weekend is that Garry McDowall will be getting a run in the Youth game.

If he passes that test McDowall will be available for the big derby game against South at Middle Park on Sunday week.

The atmosphere has changed significantly at Heidelberg and there is a new mood of optimism now that it is apparent that the Bergers are no longer a pushover.

The arrival of John Stewart, Alan Scott and Peter Tredinnick has made a world of difference, and the club can hardly wait to see McDowall pull on a yellow and black shirt.

His brother Paul will soon be on the way too, and if you think that Garry is big and robust, wait until you see Paul in action!

Two teams desperate for a win, Croatia and Adelaide City, meet at Somers St. and maybe this game will be where Croatia get themselves back on the rails.

The question everyone is asking is, "has Ivan Kelic gone off the boil?", and who can blame them.

Kelic hasn't scored since round five, when he hit the net twice against St George.

Colleague Allan Crisp in Adelaide described last week's tame affair between Adelaide City and Sydney Croatia as a contest between a team that couldn't play and a team that wouldn't.

The only significant difference between Zoran Matic's team of last year, or for that matter the last few years, has been the arrival of new Yugoslav sweeper Milan Ivanovich who is said to be very good.

Adelaide City will be strengthened not only by Ivanovich, but also by the return of Alex Tobin who has been released from the Socceroo squad.

And don't forget that Croatia will be without Jeff Olver and Alan Davidson.

IN the preliminary round of the Victorian League Cup, three of Geelong's soccer teams won their matches and only one lost.

Geelong had a fine 5-1 victory at home over Holland Park David Fleming scored a hat-trick and Darren Tuck added two more to keep up the club's high scoring run.

Hamlyn Rangers had a confidence-boosting 3-0 win to Springvale United, which made a great birthday present for coach, Tommy Galloway.

Martin Guilfoyle got the only goal of the first half, and Darren Nelson came on as substitute to add two in the second.

Stephen McAuliffe's neat chip found Andy Munro in the clear and his cross was converted by Nelson. Nelson then robbed a Springvale defender for Hamlyn's third.

North Geelong beat Heidelberg City two-nil, also away from home. Robert Cosic missed a penalty for North in the first half, but Wally Stojanovski intercepted a back-pass to put North ahead. David Krasic was entrusted with North's second penalty for handball in the second half and he did not miss.

The only loser was Bell Park, which took the lead against Keilor through Steve Scerri.But Keilor's evergreen striker, Freddie Beller, scored four times and park could only reply once when Tommy Cumming converted David Mills's shot, which rebounded from the defence.

WAVERLEY CITY EAST BRUNSWICK — IVANHOE

Waverley City: K. Pavlou, P. Strahen, A. Perree, K. Patterson, A. Wilson, P. Storey, T. Grimwade, R. Parkin, C. Whyte, G. Radcliffe, M. Budd, S. Rusmir.

East Brunswick-Ivanhoe: Bianco Muccio Ciccione Rucciolette Aceski, Ruccia Angele, D'Amico, Santangelo, Cencuccino, Montinurro, Savio.

Waverley started this game in bright frashion, taking the play up to East Brunswick and was rewarded after only eight mins. when a through ball from Grimwade found Radcliffe who turned and rifled the ball into the net from 20 metres out.

East Brunswick tried hard but when they did get a chance to equalise they had left their shooting boots at home.

Waverley should have gone further ahead when Parkin met a cross from Radcliffe but the chance went begging.

The game was pretty even at this stage but Waverley, who had the midfield sown up, was still not getting the ball to the front runners.

At half time Rusmir replaced Parkin for Waverley and there was more puurpose to there attack but East Brunswick also were trying hard for an equaliser but Kon Pavlou, who was making his debut in the Waverley goal, was determined to keep a clean sheet.

His opposite number Bianco kept East Brunswick in the game when Radcliffe put Budd through but his shot was sell saved by the keeper.

East Brunswick brought on Savio to bolster its attack but it was Waverley which scored when Strahan crossed the ball to the far post and Radcliffe running in made sure from close range.

With this goal the game was all but over and for the last ten minutes Waverley were content to play out time.

In an after-match interview coach Ian Williamson said although satisfied with the win there is still a long way to go and with the league season only three weeks away he still has some work to do to get the team 100 per cent fit.

VICTORIAN LEAGUE CUP— 1st Round

Doveton 1, Dandenong 3

Dandenong City: C. Sparrow, T. Azzopardi, J. Williams, M. Krsevan, A. Towse; J. Skomrlj, J. Symonds, J. Donnolly, A. Phelps; C. Boyd, D. Chisholm, subs. G. Johnson, J. Houston.

Report: Dandenong came to Doveton with a scratch team minus last seasons stars to compete with a Jimmy Milne coached Doveton containing several name players.

Well, despite having less of the game territorially, Doug Gregory's boys got up and beat the Dove'

Dove's 3-1 with direct counter-attacking and clinical finishing.

Firstly, Doug Chisholm finished a good move shooting past an advancing Billy Whiteside to continue his excellent preseason form.

The second came when Azzopardi broke clear and grassed to the back post to Alan Phelps who dropped a superbly placed header over the keeper.

This woke Doveton up and before half time Doveton scored following a free-header at the back post which was scrambled over the line, at this stage only the mercurial Chris Sparrow, in goal and the defence led by the talkative Jimmy Williams, kept Dendy in the game.

Chisholm nearly got the third when he cut in from the left and hit the inside of the post with Boyd narrowly missing the follow-up.

The game was sealed by John Skomplj who slotted home a fine low drive after a series of one-two passes.

The reserves under new coach Jimmy Givan narrowly failed to hang on to a 2-0 lead and ended up drawing 2-2.

HOTTER IN TWO AFTERNOON

IN last week's issue we pointed out how immensely competitive Division One Afternoon would be in 1989.

Fans might be forgiven for thinking that Two Afternoon would provide some relaxation.

But how wrong can you be! Headed by clubs of the calibre of North Dandenong Sparrows, Northern Timorese, Flemington Floridia and Elwood United, this will be another Division where a single day's lapse of form could mean the difference between a Championship and an also-ran's berth.

But as we shall see, these are not the only class contenders.

North Dandenong Sparrows played in last year's Division 2A, finishing sixth. The club had difficulty mustering its full strength on a consistent basis.

At its best, the Sparrows proved virtually unbeatable.

For the upcoming season, the management is confident of having a full muster virtually every week. If so, it wouldhave to start a hot favorite for the '89 championship.

Northern Timorese (formerly Preston Pythons) is another team the inconsistency of which cost dearly.

It's seventh last season is an inaccurate reflection of just how marvellously well its players can perform.

We doubt whether any other team in the league can match the magical ball skills and speed of the Timorese combination.

If the players can adopt a more disciplined approach to the game and can develop a degree of dedication to match their skill, Northern Timorese will do extremely well.

Flemington Floridia joined the league in '88 and served its apprenticeship in Division Four. It ran away with the championship and was improving week by week.

The club is confident that it has recruited well enough to make a definite impact in its new division. Certainly, with the backing of the Floridia Social Club, it is one of the best supported clubs in the league, and has the potential to do extremely well.

Berwick United finished eighth in 2A last year, but was certainly a better combination at the end of the season than at the start.

We are told that it has picked up three or four class players between seasons.

Given the enthusiasm and dedication of its executive and the extremely good spirit that exists in the club, we would be surprised if it failed to finish in the top half of the ladder this year.

CSUV was another club which did not do as well in last year's competition as it should have. It had the players and, in its Reserves Team (which did a lot better), the discipline needed for success in a tough competition.

Its first team contained too many cowboys. With the new players it has gained and the elevation of a number of its more talented youngsters from the Reserves, we would be surprised if CSUV was contending for the wooden spoon this year.

struggled all last season, and finished with the wooden spoon.

Between seasons there has been a major reorganisation of its executive and it, too, is said to have recruited well.

If ambition and enthusiasm count for anything, Dandenong United could finish '89 at the other end of the ladder.

Elwood United is one of the unknown quantities, along with three other clubs new to the league.

There has always been a core of very astute administrators in the Elwood set-up.

We understand that its first team combination will contain a high percentage of Chileans, which makes it a very dangerous prospect indeed. If its players can work as a team and maintain their enthusiasm over a long and strenuous season, Elwood is likely to be a contender for major honours.

But the same can be said of others.

Bayside ATA is another of the several Turkish combinations which grace the league's ranks.

Frankly, we haven't a clue about its form or likely impace on the 2A scene.

It is certainly well supported by the Australian Turkish Association, and we are assured by its management that it will be more than competitive.

Keysborough Blue Danube is another new club. Its players are mainly Hungarians.

And that means they can play football! The question is how well they can put it together as a team.

If their teamwork proves to be half as good as their undoubted ball skills, there are a lot of teams in Division 2A who are in for the fright of their lives.

Last, but not least, come the Oak City Bays. This Clayton-based combination embodies a wealth of talent and is likely to win far more games than it loses.

So, who is our pick for the Championship?

Answer: We haven't a clue, and no matter what sort of "book" is made, will not be making any bets. This much is a dead-set certainty — Division 2A will be just as competitive just as exciting and will provide just as many nail-biting finishes as it did in 1988.

And that makes it a competition well worth watching.

BERWOOD WHOOPS IT UP

Berwick United launched its 1989 season in style, with a glittering social evening at the Paterson Lakes Community Centre on Sunday.

Guest star was the super popular voilinist-vocalist Kemal Guluc, who is currently in Australia for a season at the Taksim Restaurant in Brunswick.

Your correspondent would like to tell you more about the evening but five hours of enforced dancing and feasting left him almost dead.

Before collapsing, however, he gathered that Berwick United will win all its games and will finish the season immensely wealthy.

MYSTERY MAN

Speculation abounds on the identity of the former FA First Division and NSL super-hero contemplating a move into Industrial League ranks.

Gunners mowed down by Forest firepower

London, Sunday

Arsenal's quest for the English league soccer championship ran into further trouble at Highbury yesterday when Nottingham Forest kept alive its slim title hopes with an unexpected 3-1 win.

The Gunners had won only one of their past four games, failing to score in three of them, while Forest arrived bolstered by an unbeaten run of 16 matches in league and cup.

It soon showed why, with Nigel Clough driving it ahead after only six minutes. Alan Smith scored his 21st goal of the season to pull Arsenal back level, but this was merely a Forest hiccup. Franz Carr beat the offside trap to make it 2-1 in the 20th minute, and then England fullback Stuart Pearce grabbed the third 10 minutes before half-time.

What made the defeat worse for Arsenal was that two of its closest challengers also won.

Second-placed Norwich overcame Wimbledon 1-0 at Carrow Road, thanks to Trevor Putney's 51st-minute goal, closing the gap at the top to only two points — and Norwich has a game in hand.

Third-placed Millwall also won, 2-1 at Luton. Two first-half goals inside six minutes from winger Jimmy Carter put the Lions in command, before Luton pulled one back after the break with a Danny Wilson penalty.

Liverpool took its unbeaten run in the league to six games with a comprehensive 4-0 win at Middlesbrough. Peter Beardsley and Ray Houghton put Kenny Dalglish's men 2-0 up at half-time, John Aldridge hit his 18th goal of the season in the 79th minute, and Steve McMahon scored No. 4 three minutes from time.

QPR's new $1.7 million striker, Colin Clarke, quickly began paying back some of his fee as he put his side on the way to a 2-1 win at Newcastle. Clarke has scored in every game he has played against the Geordies, and he netted again to break the deadlock after 64 minutes. Mark Stein then made it two before Newcastle pulled one back through Ray Ranson.

In Scotland, Dundee United's championship hopes dived when it was beaten 4-1 at home by St Mirren, its first defeat in 20 games.

United dropped two places to fourth and now trails premier division leader Glasgow Rangers by six points. Rangers beat Hamilton 3-0 with new signing Mel Sterland scoring on his debut and Ian Ferguson and Richard Gough contributing the others.

Arsenal manager George Graham is to take over as coach of Spanish giant Real Madrid at the end of the season, according to the London 'Daily Mirror'.

The paper reported that Graham had already signed a contract to replace Dutchman Leo Beenhakker at Real.

The Scot is said to have been unable to resist the money offered by Real, which apparently dangled an agreement worth more than double the $148,000 a year he is receiving from Arsenal.

Australian striker David Oldfield chose to miss out on a possible Wembley appearance when he left Littlewoods Cup finalist Luton Town for Manchester City in a $1.2 million deal on Friday.

The 20-year-old from Perth picked the English second division promotion candidate ahead of division one struggler West Ham, after Luton had agreed on the fee with both clubs.

"John Lyall, the West Ham manager, impressed me enormously, but in the end I decided to go to City because they have a young team," Oldfield said.

Meanwhile, Queen's Park Rangers' signing of Northern Ireland striker Colin Clarke is expected to lead to the departures of England squad men David Seaman and Paul Parker from Loftus Road.

Arsenal heads the queue for Seaman, a $2.1 million-rated goalkeeper who has turned down a new contract with QPR, while Liverpool is the favorite to land Parker for about $4.2 million.

Liverpool is also reported to be on the point of splashing out $1 million on Bristol Rovers striker Gary Penrice before the transfer deadline later this month.
